THREE DIXON
YOUTHS TAKEN
FOR ROBBERYSheriff Clears Up Series of Crimes Here
Recently

The apprehension of three Dixon youths over the week end by Sheriff Ward Miller and Deputy Gilbert Finch, was today said to have cleared up a series of crimes in Dixon and vicinity during the last two weeks. The alleged kidnapping and bold robbery of Sam Eakle, 71 year old farm hand on Saturday night, June 18 on the Wild Cat school road northwest of Dixon and the robbery of the John Fellows warehouse in the rear of his home in this city on the same night were said to have been admitted by the trio.

Charles Konkrite, 18, 803 N. chusa avenue, Alvin Schultheis, 17, 812 Fifth street and John Thompson, 19, 901 Monroe avenue were in custody at the county jail today, where they were being held pending investigation into the series of crimes. According to Sheriff Miller, all three had admitted robbing the aged farm hand and breaking into the Fellows warehouse on the night of June 18.

Eakles identified the trio when he viewed them at the county jail this morning. He was stopped while enroute to his home about 11 o'clock at night on June 18, by the trio who represented themselves to be deputy sheriffs and robbed of about four dollars in money and a valuable gold watch. Konkrite was reported to have told Sheriff Miller this morning that he threw the stolen watch into Rock river from the Peoria avenue bridge Sunday morning.

Taken Into Custody
Thompson and Schultheis were taken into custody Sunday morning and Konkrite was arrested late last night at Amboy in company with several other youths by Officer Louis Scott, and brought to Dixon this morning.

In the purported confessions, Konkrite, Schultheis and Thompson were said to have stated that they followed Eakles on the Lincoln Highway to the Wild Cat school road on the night of June 18, and on the latter road stopped him. Konkrite and Schultheis boarded his car and drove west on the gravel road a short distance where Eakles was taken from his car and while Schultheis held his arms from the back, Konkrite and Thompson "frisked" his pockets, taking money and the gold watch.

Their statement was said to have added that after releasing the aged farm hand they drove to Dixon in Schultheis' car and went to the Fellows home on Peoria avenue and Eighth street, where the lock was forced on the warehouse and five cases of beer were taken. They then proceeded to the Paul Busser farm home north of Franklin Grove, where they aroused Busser and his wife at an early hour Sunday morning. Deputy Sheriff Gilbert Finch questioned Mr. and Mrs. Busser yesterday afternoon and learned that Konkrite traded the gold watch to Busser for two chickens, which he had not received. Saturday afternoon, in company with four other Dixon youths, Konkrite went back to the Busser farm and was given the watch. The five cases of beer, the trio stated in their confessions, were hauled south of Dixon on the Dutch road where it was concealed and the trio and other friends consumed it early last week.

Fellows told Deputy Sheriff Finch Sunday afternoon that three raids had been made in recent weeks at his warehouse and cases of beer stolen.

Arrested in Amboy
Konkrite in company with Romeo Blackburn, Harry Nutter, Kenneth Adams, Clyde Pratt, Arthur Lewis and Ernest Schmall, were taken in custody late Sunday night by Officer Louis Scott at Amboy. The seven Dixon youths were reported to have driven into the Smith service station at Amboy last night, where one of the number ordered the attendant to fill their gas tank.

When the attendant became suspicious and went into the station to telephone to the police, Blackburn was said to have followed him and jerked the telephone from his hands. Officer Scott apprehended the group, but later released Nutter and Adams. Sheriff Miller went to Amboy this morning and brought the other five to Dixon to be held pending investigation. He later

Laissez - Faire

London, June 27—(AP)—Ailing George Bernard Shaw faced today what probably will be the biggest problem in his long life. It is to follow these physician's orders:

Don't talk to any one about anything.

Don't read controversial topics in newspapers.

Don't answer the telephone.

Don't write articles.

The venerable playwright, who will be 82 years old July 26, has been suffering for the past few months from what was called "a form of anemia."

PROSPECTS FOR FARMER INCOME

Cash Benefits Estimated
$450,000,000 Below
That of 1937

Washington, June 27—(AP)—American farmers open their 1938 marketing season for major crops this week with prospects of a cash income 25 percent below the goal set up by the new farm law.

The goal is an income of at least $10,000,000,000. On the basis of present relationships between farm and industrial prices, farmers would require that much money, agriculture department economists said today, to give them buying power equal to that of urban residents.

As movement of the wheat crop to market got into full swing, these officials estimated the cash farm income, including government benefit payments, from January to June would be at least $450,000,000 below that of the comparable period of 1937.

The six-month income for 1938 was estimated at $3,050,000,000.

Total for 1938
Should commodity prices remain at or near the present levels, the income for the last six months of this year could not be expected to exceed $4,500,000,000, making a total of $7,550,000,000 for 1938.

The 1937 cash income, including benefit payments was placed at $8,521,000,000.

Only an upturn in prices and a material improvement in domestic as well as foreign demand for American farm products could raise the income above these estimates, economists said.

Although benefit payments authorized by the recent Congress totaled about $760,000,000, the largest

The tour was arranged by the Illinois Geological Survey and the University of Illinois.

Two Princeton Couples Accosted
By Armed Stranger Near Here

Two Princeton couples experienced a thrilling adventure about 10:30 Sunday night about four miles south of Dixon on state route 26, formerly 89, when they were accosted by an armed stranger. Sheriff Ward Miller and Chief Van Bibber and Officer Tyne responded to a telephone call received from the Frank Siekin farm residence in South Dixon, where the two couples had run almost a mile, to escape.

Misses Ruby Dean, Atha Marshall, Forrest Yessen and Glen Buchanan, all of Princeton while returning home from Dixon, were halted on the state highway when a tire failed. While the two young men were making the repair, a black sedan driven by a tall, hatless stranger stopped and the driver offered to take the girls for a ride. They refused and he then stepped from his car, brandishing a revolver and offered each of the four young people a

ROYALTY OF
SWEDEN GETS
BIG WELCOMEF. D. R. Greets Prince
Where Colonists
Landed

Wilmingon, Del., June 27—(AP)—President Roosevelt, standing under a rain-drenched canopy, welcomed in "true friendship" today a prince and princess of Sweden.

And from them—Prince Bertil and Crown Princess Louise—the Chief Executive accepted with "profound gratitude" a monument raised by the Swedish people on the spot where the first of their countrymen landed in the new world.

Speaking at the 300th anniversary celebration of the arrival of those colonists at "the rocks" here, Mr. Roosevelt expressed "keen sorrow" that Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, father of Bertil, could not come ashore.

The crown prince, stricken with a kidney ailment, remained on the Swedish liner Kungsholm which brought the royal party across the Atlantic for Swedish-American festivities which extend into July.

Rain, falling steadily through the night and morning, brought a dreary note to the historic scene at the junction of the Christina and Delaware rivers. Decorative flags and bunting sagged.

Although Mr. Roosevelt's brief speech was addressed to "your royal highness," he paid a tribute to the Finns who were represented, too, in the 1638 colonization of Delaware.

Finland, small in size but mighty in honor, occupies an especially warm place in the American heart," he said to Finnish foreign minister Rudolf Holsti, without referring directly to that country's lone practice, among all European debtor nations, of paying its installments to this country regularly and on time.

Good-Will to Finland
Accepting the monument, the President said he was confident "it will typify the close association and continued good-will between our two nations." x x x

"To this spot came the pioneers. But in the succeeding centuries tens of thousands of others have come to our shores and added their strength and their fine qualities of citizenship to the American nation."

Turning to Governor Richard C. McMullen of Delaware, Mr. Roosevelt said that official holds office in direct official succession from the governors of New Sweden.

"Which reminds me," the Presi-

They refused and he then stepped from his car, brandishing a revolver and offered each of the four young people a can of beer. This was refused, and when one of the young men suggested that he exercise care in wielding the revolver, the stranger was said to have thrown a sandwich in the air and displayed his prowess with the weapon by firing several volleys in the air.

At this point in the proceedings, the four young people ran across fields and fearing that the armed stranger was in pursuit, continued almost a mile to the Siekin home where they aroused members of the family and telephoned the local police station.

Chief Van Bibber relayed the message to Sheriff Miller and the three officers then hurried to the scene, only to find that the armed stranger had driven away.

The two thoroughly frightened couples were brought to the police station and their car hauled to a local garage. Friends from Princeton came to Dixon early this morning and returned them to their homes.

AUTO THIEVES
BUSY AGAIN IN THIS VICINITY

J. P. Brechon of South Dixon township, late Saturday afternoon reported to the police that his new Studebaker sedan had been stolen. Mr. Brechon left the car parked on Second street between Peoria and Highland avenues with the keys in the switch, and reported the robbery shortly after 5 o'clock in the evening. Chief Van Bibber immediately broadcast a report of the car theft over the state police radio station east of Sterling.

At 8:25 Saturday evening another report was received from the Keller grocery on First street and Logan avenue, to the effect that a young man driving a large sedan had stopped and ordered ten gallons of gasoline pumped into the tank. He drove away without paying for the gas, but the attendant secured the license numbers and furnished these to the police. It was found that the license plates belonged to the stolen Brechon car and a description of the machine furnished by the attendant, satisfied the police that the stolen car was still in this vicinity. Chief Van Bibber and Merchant Officer McIntyre drove to Harmon investigating side roads where stolen cars have been abandoned recently, but found no trace of the machine.

Last night at 11:30, Sheriff Percy Miller of Princeton, telephoned Chief Van Bibber, stating that the car had been abandoned near the entrance to Alexander park south of that city and a Plymouth sedan had been taken. Chief Van Bibber and Mr. Brechon went to Princeton this morning to recover the stolen car.

Weary Possemen In Fruitless Search For Missing McCormickYouth Formerly Lived On Large Estate Near Byron

Albuquerque, N. M., June 27—(AP)—An army of 350 weary men made a fresh assault today on mile-high storm-swept Sandia Peak, hoping somehow to break the five-day mystery surrounding the disappearance of mountain-climbing Medill McCormick.

As the fourth day of intensive search dawned, increasing pessimism was evident among the foot-sore, muscle-weary searchers. They battled heights, scorching sun and lightning storms over the Sabbath in futile hunt for the 21-year-old scion of a wealthy publishing family.

The body of Richard Whitmer, McCormick's companion on an ill-fated climbing expedition Wednesday, was found Friday on rocks under the 2,000-foot sheer face of the peak's topmost cliff, "The Shield."

Mrs. Simms at Scene
Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick Simms, Medill's mother, was again with the searching forces today. She has been at the scene since Thursday.

She did not retire until after midnight, holding council with veteran mountain climbers to map today's search.

Her voice was tense with fatigue and nerve strain.

Combed Every Inch
"They have combed every inch of the peak's western surface—and when I say every inch, I mean every inch," she said.

"I am completely satisfied that the area where observers yesterday thought they saw a body has been thoroughly searched, revealing nothing."

"But the search will be continued, rechecking the same area."

Dr. Karl Arndt of Denver, mountaineering member of the Rocky Mountain Climbing Club, was frankly dubious that young McCormick's body might be on the cliff.

"Every accessible place on that cliff has been explored," he said, "and we have found no trace of the boy's body."

Arndt said, "the route young McCormick is believed to have taken never has been successfully climbed, according to my information."

"The Shield is a very sheer cliff, almost perpendicular. Experienced mountain climbers taking part in the search only 'nibbled' at it from the sides."

Scaled Many Peaks
Arndt has scaled many Colorado and Swiss peaks.

Although Mrs. Simms feared her son's body was lodged in a high crevice, searchers made tentative plans to cross the top of the peak and explore the east slope.

This side of the peak, while rocky and steep, has not the sheer rock face of the west side.

It was the theory of some that McCormick may have fallen on the east side and that Whitmer, hurrying for aid, may have decided to descend the west face as the nearest, though more perilous route.

Others speculated on the possibility Wednesday's torrential rains may have washed McCormick's body into a crevice and buried it under silt and shale.

The Simms family group was joined by Mrs. C. D. Barnes, sister of the missing boy, who arrived from New York with her husband and Mrs. Margaret Aylshire.

The search area, in the Cibola National Forest, was completely barred to sightseers, photographers and all but a few newsmen.

The base camp in Juan Canyon, where 115 CCC enrollees were camped, has rolling field kitchens, telescopes and field radio transmitters of the Forest Service. Radio communication was being maintained between the Juan Tabo base and the field base about three miles up on the side of the peak.

Editor's Note—Medill McCormick, son of the late United States Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois, was until recently a resident of Byron, Illinois, on the beautiful McCormick estate overlooking Rock River at that point.

Hankow, June 25—(Delayed)—(AP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's reluctance to allow the departure of his German military advisers has resulted in strong Berlin representations.

The latest German action was the recall of Ambassador Oskar Trautmann, who will leave Hankow by air tomorrow.

It was believed in authoritative quarters sterner action would follow if General Baron Alexander von Falkenhausen and members of the German military mission were prevented from boarding the international train scheduled to leave for Hongkong Tuesday.

At a farewell meeting today between Chiang Kai-Shek and Trautmann, the generalissimo finally agreed that the Germans might discontinue their advisory duties but he definitely reserved the right to say when and how they might leave Hankow and China.

On May 21 Berlin requested the Chinese government to release the German advisers from their contracts, but the generalissimo's absence from Hankow delayed action on the request.

The heavy surf kept a coast guard crew from searching for his body last night. Ricard was the son of a former chief of police of Toledo, Ohio.

Tracy Novinger and Prince Banister, both 22 years old, were rescued from the water at the same time Ricard was lost.

BRITISH DEMAND

raged By Repeated
Bombings

London, June 27—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain's opponents in the House of Commons, enraged by two more attacks on British ships in Spanish ports, sought vainly today to have him arm British merchantmen with anti-aircraft guns.

Chamberlain tried to stem a flood of hostile questions with a declaration that "a good many difficulties" stand in the way of such a move.

Replying to Laborite Philip J. Noel-Baker, Chamberlain first said that "further consideration of the suggestion has revealed additional difficulties."

Asked if the government would suggest to the Spanish non-intervention committee that merchantmen be supplied with machine-guns to defend themselves against low-flying attackers, Chamberlain explained that that had been considered but added:

Alterations Needed
"I am informed that fitting of merchant vessels with anti-aircraft equipment would require structural alterations."

Bombing of two British freighters today by airmen in the service of the Spanish insurgents, added to a long list of such assaults, severely tested Chamberlain's policy of meeting such incidents with only protests and negotiations.

There were several casualties in the bombardments.

Meanwhile, the Spanish government's threat to bomb Italian and German cities in reprisal for insurgent air raids was viewed in informed quarters as a desperate "trial balloon" which swift, ominous reaction in Great Britain and France effectively had punctured.

MORE SHIPS FIRED
Valencia, June 27—(AP)—Bombs from aerial raiders today smashed and fired two more British ships in the ports of Valencia and Alicante.

Several seamen were killed or wounded.

The first victim of the attacks was the freighter Arlon in the harbor of Valencia. She was set afire and a Rumanian crewman killed.

Three persons were killed aboard the 4,793-ton Farnham when a bomb struck the vessel at its bow, discharging a cargo of foodstuffs at Alicante.

The vessel was reported sinking. Two Alicante stevedores were

Octagon House

The Story So Far:

Assey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has enraged Quano-met. She was killed by a left handed blow from the knife of her sister Pam Frye. Interested parties are: Tim Carr, once married to Marina; Roddy Strutt, whose alibiing plane crash was deliberate; Peggy Boone, an artist; Jennings, an irate plumber; and persons unknown, who burned down the Frye's barn, destroyed Jack Lorne's mural sketches and defaced the mural itself. Missing is a $50,000 lump of ambergris belonging to Pam. Then Roddy is killed by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Chapter 45 No Clues

"Strutt said they expected trouble," the officer said. "They don't seem to know just what kind, but they expected it. They had the place all armed and fortified. Under those circumstances, how did anyone get here without being seen? And why did Strutt unlock the garage and go in? He must have, too. The garage key is on the same ring with the car keys, and they tell me that no one else had a key to this garage. Seems there'd been a bit of trouble with the servants swiping the roadster for their joy rides, and that's why it was here all by itself. What was the idea, Assey?"

"No one knows any ideas," Assey said wearily. "It's my opinion that the servants was fed up with this armin' an' fortifyin', and that except for the two at the driveway gates, no one was doin' any guardin' at all. I've got some pretty good evidence that the rest was mostly occupied with a crap game an' field day, in the basement. It was gettin' dark when Roddy disappeared. Someone could have sneaked along the shore all right, without bein' seen. I can't find out why Roddy came here."

"Date, maybe?" Lane suggested. "He had every opportunity to make dates," Assey said. "He's been phoin' people right an' left all day, an' they been phoin' him. Carveth put his foot down on a couple of parties Roddy'd planned here for today, but you can't tell how many other dates he might have made."

"But if they were afraid of trouble," Lane said, "would Roddy have made dates, or come down here without telling anyone? And if he'd seen a prowler, why'n't he yell?"

Assey shrugged. "I think, myself, that he must of had a date with someone that he wanted to keep quiet about, or one with someone he never thought of as bein' a menace. He came here, met 'em, went into the garage for a chat—this is a secluded sort of place here. An' durin' the chat he got his. Did you find anythin' in the garage, by the way?"

Clews? No. It's a clean garage. There were things in the car, but just the sort of things you'd expect to find in a car of his. Hairpins and a lipstick or two, and a glass bead, and compacts, and a powder puff—all shades lead me to feel that he preferred blondes. Come on and look."

Assey went to the garage. "You know," Lane said, displaying the articles, "you don't get clews in a thing of this sort, unless—"

"Less," Assey said, "you have someone step into some fresh cement, or write names an' addresses an' phone numbers on the corpse's shirt front. Doc, I'm drivin' back in Tim's car. You're comin' to see Aaron, ain't you? Well, I'll meet you at the Octagon House. Thanks, Lane. Happy huntin'!"

Offhand, he thought as he drove along home, off hand as he couldn't remember when he had ever felt more bitterly ashamed of himself. If only he had gone to the Strutt home the night before! If only he had gone to see Roddy, and ironed out the situation. If only he had shown some trace of common sense! If only he had, Roddy might still be alive.

He reproached himself steadily and forcefully all the way along the beach road.

"Gentle Philosophizing."

Of course, even if he had gone, he'd only have learned about the Jennings episode, and considered Jennings the menace. That wouldn't have helped matters much. He might have talked with Roddy, but he wouldn't have gone far without the pilot's side of the story to use as a crowbar in prying out the truth.

The chances were that whoever set out to kill Roddy would have killed him in any case. Everyone in the town knew of the guarding and the fortifications of the Strutt house, but the preparations did not deterred the murderer in the least. He had made up his mind to kill Roddy, and he did just that.

And Marina had been killed in that same grimly determined way. The barn had been burned by someone with the same determination and disregard for consequences. The mural had been obliterated with finality and deliberation. The key stealing was neat and deliberate. Everything, in fact, that seemed to matter was characterized by the same quiet and efficient force. By neat thinking, and firm thinking. The fellow thought things out, and things went with a fine smoothness for him.

He turned into the driveway of the Octagon House. Mrs. Carr, followed by Emma on her leash, walked down from the porch to meet him. They were the only ones up, she informed him.

"Pam and Peg were tired to death, and so was Tim. I packed them to bed. Aaron's asleep, mercifully, but he—Assey, what's happened now, you seem so dejected—I know. You need food!" "I always wondered," Assey said, "as they went indoors, why a woman always thinks that all anyone needs to make 'em feel better is just a little food. I do," he added hurriedly, before Mrs. Carter could retort, "need food. An' if you can find me some super-spinach that'll give me the brains to settle this—don't yell at the news—this murder of Roddy Strutt, I'll be willin' to trail you around on Emma's leash."

"So he's been killed, has he?" She didn't seem perturbed by the information. "It doesn't surprise me—oh, here's the chicken. Pam was saying—no, not a bit. Nothing would surprise me at this point. Why was he killed?"

"I ain't at the who or why stage yet," Assey said, attacking the chicken. "Is it the same one who killed Marina that did this? Really? Why?"

"I can't give you facts," Assey said. "Only a sort of gentle philosophizin' about the simple murder. I don't think I ever seen anything more simple than these two murders. Girls stabbed with someone else's knife. No clews. Man stunned an' stuck under exhaust pipe. No clews. There you are. Smart. Smooth. Unobtrusive, like. Use guns, an' ballistics'll you get. Use poison, an' toxicologists'll get you. But use a stolen knife an' carbon monoxide, an' combine 'em with a passion for removin' finger prints, an' a lack of collar buttons an' false teeth left behind—oh, you got somethin' here, you have! We got to prove you took the knife. We got to prove you started the car, so to speak. An' very few murderers invite audiences."

"Some Nice Person?" "What were the motives?" Mrs. Carr asked. "Roddy an' Marina," Assey said, "sort of inspired motives. The place is littered with reasons for people to kill 'em."

"Why?" Mrs. Carr asked, "do people kill people, anyway? I was trying to think today, just why I wanted to kill Marina, and all I could think of was, she'd hurt Tim. That seems so vague!"

"Usually it's love or money," Assey said, "or variations on 'em. There are others, of course. I once knew a man who killed an other man on account of bein' unduly sensitive about his toupee, but that ain't a normal one."

"Well, murderers aren't normal, anyway," Mrs. Carr said.

"Emma," Assey said, "is a normal cat. She eats, an' she sleeps, an' she's bright enough to be trained to a leash. Now normal would Emma be, if she got a real chance at that parrot?"

"I almost wish," Mrs. Carr said sincerely, "that she would. Toots is the most inhuman bird—just sits and stares and stares, and never a word! I suppose that Toots and Emma, between them, know the whole story. They pretend to, anyway. But Assey, murderers aren't normal. They can't be."

"I don't see why there's this far-reachin' theory," Assey said, "that murderers have to be either eccentric people with too many brains, or dumb clods without any. More often than not, it's a nice person who turns out to be a murderer. Course, by the time the experts get through, they've got all the symptoms listed in the doc's book, an' you wonder why they wasn't put away behind bars at the age of three an' a half."

"You think it was some nice person who killed Marina and Roddy?" Mrs. Carr asked anxiously. "Oh, dear, I thought it would be someone—well, not with a beard, and teeth missing, but someone—"

"With a leer and no socks," Assey said. "I know. Praps it is. But they got a nice way of thinkin'. I give 'em credit."

"How'll you find him?" "By time," Assey said. "Time 'an' some other odds an' ends, like who ruined the mural—"

"Oh, has that been ruined? How perfectly splendid! How perfectly wonderful!"

Assey chuckled. "An' I got to find out who burned the barn," he said, "an' who saw Roddy Strutt on Friday night—"

"That sounds terribly difficult!" "It is," Assey said. "An' I got to find out if Lorne's drawings was burned for spite, or a purpose. An' just the time element alone is enough to keep one man busy for the end of his days."

GROWS ONE BIG LEMON

Colorado Springs, (AP)—The lemon is hardly native to the Pikes Peak country, but Mrs. R. S. Niswanger has just completed her usual "lemon harvest." She plucked a lemon 18 inches in circumference—enough for three pies—from the lemon tree that grows in winter within her house and in the summer outside in her garden. The three is potted and bears only one gigantic lemon at a time.

Will Appear at Juveniles' Convention

The Doodlebugs, Sterling F. L. A. Juvenile orchestra which will be one of the feature attractions of the coming F. L. A. Juvenile convention at Fulton. Members of the organization are: front row: Donald Thome, bass clarinet; Ellen Haskell, clarinet; Milton Ward, clarinet; Donald Dewey, clarinet; Dorothy Ward, flute, piccolo and director; Marian Schuler, cornet; Doris Boyings, cornet; Harold Stone, cornet; Gordon Behrens, piano. Second row: Evan Barracough, baritone; Roger Rice, French horn; Edward Bowers, tuba; Doris Abel, trombone; Robert Burch, violin and trombone; Robert Burke, trombone; LaVonne McNeil, drums, vocalist and pianist. These ambitious juvenies were written by C. C. Cummings, F. L. A. district manager for Whiteside and Lee counties.

Approximately 400 juveniles and their adult supervisors, representing local units in scores of communities, ranging from Minnesota to Texas and from Michigan to Nebraska, will assemble June 28, 29 and 30 on the banks of the Mississippi at Fulton, for the 13th annual national convention of the juvenile department of the Fidelity Life Association, which has its home offices in that city. For three colorful days these youngsters, under the able direction of Walter C. Below, president of the Fidelity Life Association and a member of the executive committee of the National Fraternal Congress of America, will conduct an actual convention and transact business for the good of their department. It is the only meeting of its kind in the country. In their home communities, the juvenile members have already selected delegates for the Fulton meeting, which will, in turn, elect the national officers. Each group of officers holds office for one year.

Highlights of the coming convention include a mammoth picnic, to be held at Eagle Point Park, Clinton, Iowa, just across the river from the convention site; a spectacular fireworks display sponsored by Fulton merchants; a grand ball; and the election and installation of national officers. The three-day program is replete with educational, citizenship - building and character-forming activities, as well as a great variety of entertainment features, including musical numbers, dances, exhibition drills, stunts, playettes, and so on, most of the talent being furnished by the "juvenies", themselves.

Free rooms, free meals and free entertainment is provided for the young people and their supervisors while in Fulton, most of them being accommodated in private homes in that community.

The Fidelity Life Association, a leading fraternal benefit society featuring legal reserve life insurance, was the first organization of its kind to hold a national convention for juvenile members. Since inaugurated in 1926, substantially more than 3600 juveniles and supervisors have attended these events. The Fidelity Life Association was a pioneer in the field of juvenile life insurance and now has more than 12,000 boys and girls enrolled in this department, which originated in 1918. The parent institution received its charter from the State of Illinois in 1896. Since the first convention in 1926, these annual meetings by the society's "juvenies" have been watched with great interest by leading fraternalists in the United States and Canada.

When reaching age 16, the "juvenies" are permitted to transfer to the adult department without the necessity of a physical examination, unless they should increase the amount of their insurance. An F. L. A. juvenile certificate not only means financial protection for the parents of the insured youth, but also gives the youth a real sense of responsibility, provides him with the thrill of accumulating an estate which might be unobtainable in later years because of impaired health, impresses on him the value of thrift and good citizenship and, under certain plans, gives him a fund for a college education. In addition, he is permitted to participate in the social and recreational activities of his local unit.

Their successors will be selected at the coming convention, which will open at 10 A. M., Tuesday, June 28.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 26.

The Golden Text was, "The ransom of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads; they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away" (Isaiah 35: 10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For as the rain cometh down and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater; So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it" (Isaiah 55: 10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In divine Science, where prayers are mental, all may avail themselves of God as 'a very present help in trouble.' Love is impartial and universal in its adaptation and bestowals. It is the open fount which cries 'Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters'" (p. 12, 13).

BEARS THAT LIKE MUTTON PAY WITH THEIR LIFE

Cheyenne, Wyo. (AP)—An appetite for mutton is fatal for bears in Wyoming.

When they start eating sheep, Adolph Hamm, Wyoming chief of the U. S. biological survey, designates them as "predatory animals" and sends hunters after them.

Recently more than 100 sheep and lambs were killed in three weeks in the Battle Mountain country of the Medicine Bow forest.

An investigation disclosed five bears suddenly had turned into sheep killers and hunters were sent to shoot them. All five were killed.

Hamm said not all bears like mutton.

Heibenthal-Huene Wedding Solemnized at Ashton Church

(Telegraph Special Service)
Ashton, June 27.—Miss Wynne Heibenthal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey W. Heibenthal, and John Huene of Chicago, pledged nuptial vows at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Evangelical church. The Rev. Parke O. Bailey read the single ring ceremony.

Garden flowers and ferns decorated the church. Mrs. Lawrence Jennings was at the organ for the nuptial prelude, playing "Cantilene Nuptial" (DuBois). Debussy's "Romance," "O Promise Me" by DeKoven, and "Berceuse in G" (Faulkes). Miss Catherine Heneault of Urbana, former classmate of the bride, sang two numbers, "Because," and Cadman's "At Dawning."

At the opening strains of "The Bridal Chorus," from Wagner's "Lohengrin," the doors were opened by the ushers, Clarence H. Kersten and Verlis Tadd, and the bride and groom entered.

The bride walked down the white-carpeted aisle with her father. She wore a princess gown of satin with a finger-tip veil of tulle. Her lace cap was held in place with clusters of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of white Killarney roses and baby's breath.

Miss Ruth Heibenthal was her sister's maid of honor. She chose a gown of cadet blue lace over satin, and carried Briarcliff roses and blue delphinium. Miss Millie Miritello of Chicago, bridesmaid, was attired in peach lace over satin. Her flowers were Joan Hill roses and delphinium.

Edward Huene of Chicago served his brother as best man.

Mrs. Heibenthal, the bride's mother, wore navy blue lace over taffeta, and the bridegroom's mother chose a white suit. Sweet peas formed the corsages at their shoulder.

Mendelssohn's wedding march was played for the recessional. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the bridal party and immediate families of the couple.

Mrs. Huene was graduated from Ashton high school with the class of 1934, and from Scoville business college at Sterling. For the past two and a half years she has been employed as stenographer for the American Standard Manufacturing company in Chicago. The bridegroom, who was graduated from the Tilden Technical High school in 1932, has been employed as assistant production manager at Montgomery Ward and company in Chicago for five years.

For the remainder of the summer, the couple will reside with the bride's parents.

Hornsby Appointed Chattanooga Club Baseball Manager

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 27.—(AP)—Rogers Hornsby, seven times National league batting champion and manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, has his hand in the Southern Association.

His appointment as manager of the Chattanooga Lookouts, last-place club in the Southern, was announced yesterday by the club owner, Joe Engel. He declined to give the purchase price.

Hornsby will replace playing Manager Walter Millies, who came here from Washington last winter.

Hornsby, who this year has been serving as coach and utility man for the Baltimore Orioles, in the International League, has a playing contract which expires at the end of the current year, Engel said.

He planned to join the club in Knoxville today.

PAVING, SEWER PROJECTS OPEN EARLY IN JULY

Four local improvement projects in Dixon will be under way early in July representing an expenditure of more than $13,000. Two of the improvements are to be started immediately, the improving of the storm water sewer on Ottawa avenue and south of Seventh street and the paving on Lincoln avenue. The latter provides for the extension of the present concrete paving from Fourth to Sixth streets in front of the new Lincoln grade school.

The concrete paving is to be widened on the west side of the present slab to provide for the elimination of storm water conditions and to increase space for the parking of automobiles.

The other two projects for which the contracts have been awarded, have been forwarded to the state department of highways for final approval before the contractors start operations. This action is necessary as the East Chamberlain street resurfacing improvement and the paving with cement of more than one block east of Lincoln avenue is to be paid for out of the city's share of the gasoline tax refund.

The improvements provide for the use of local products, cement, sand and gravel in all of the projects, and will be the means of providing considerable employment over a period of several weeks.

1,000,000 CHILDREN CAST ASIDE

A state of civilization which permits the bombing of thousands of inoffensive civilians has become commonplace and accepted during the past 10 years.

But perhaps there is still a capacity to be shocked at a civilization that permits children to go homeless and starving down the path to squalor and disease and death.

When the history of this era is written, perhaps the blackest blot upon it will be its treatment of children. When adults are bombed and massacred and driven by marching men from their homes, it is bad enough. But after all, it is their world, and it is as they order it.

But the children, brought into the world without a will of their own, living amid circumstances which they have not yet had a chance to affect—they are the blackest tragedy of all.

Such a picture comes back from Spain through workers for the Spanish Child Welfare Association, which, with backers like the Unitarian Church, the Quakers, and other humanitarian groups, is trying to help the children left helpless in the backwash of both sides of the Spanish civil war.

A million children, whose parents are either dead, or lost, or fighting on one side or the other, deserted, underfed and sick, whimpering in terror of things they do not understand—that is the most terrible toll of war in Spain. Quaker relief workers tell their tales of mothers standing in lines carrying their hot, feverish children, every one a hospital case, weak with dysentery or Malta fever. The three 50-bed Quaker hospitals in the Alicante region tried to serve 50,000 helpless mothers and children who needed help desperately.

Advancing or retreating armies have slaughtered the cattle; there is no milk for these Spanish babies. Practically no meat, and very little rice and wheat. If the brave Quaker volunteers can supply them with a bowl of cocoa and a chunk of bread in the morning and a dish of beans at night, they have done what all Spain is now unable to do.

Such relief workers cannot forget 9000 refugees huddling in a single deserted factory building in Murcia amid indescribable filth, mere chattering animals with everything stripped from them that made life human and livable.

Even should the Spanish war end tomorrow, thousands of these deserted children would have to be cared for. Their parents are dead or missing. They have never had decent food or clothing. They have had nothing but starvation, and misery, and terror. What will they mean to Spain and to the world when they shall have grown up?

Let those who talk lightly of civil and class warfare consider what it has meant to Spain. It will take brilliant social results to repay Spain for these wasted and whimpering children.

FREEDOM'S DEFENSE IS TRUTH'S

Thomas Mann, exiled German author, has been saying a great many sensible things on his current tour of America; but nothing that he has said is much more worthy of our serious consideration than his recent remark in New York that freedom must learn the art of self-defense.

Freedom as it exists in America is a priceless thing. We who have always lived in it take it for granted, perhaps even fail to realize that it can conceivably be in danger. Mann, who saw freedom snuffed out in Germany, has a clearer appraisal of it; and his warning is something to ponder over.

That the ideal of freedom must eventually prevail in this world is, to Dr. Mann, something that goes almost without saying. But before it can prevail the race is apt to live through some dark and painful times, and those who know and love freedom must learn the art of defending it against its mortal enemies.

Now it is very easy to say that we must "defend freedom"; the trick is to learn just how the job is to be done. For freedom cannot defend itself by taking up the weapons of suppression. Those weapons cut both ways. Any free society which tries to use them will end by finding that it has somehow ceased to be free.

It would be better, perhaps, to begin by understanding clearly just what a devotion to freedom implies.

Such a devotion—when carried into practice through such instruments as democracy—implies, primarily, a belief that the great mass of human beings have in them the good will, the good sense and the common decency to handle any problem that can face them. In other words, it implies a broad, sustaining faith in the human race.

This, of course, is only a starter. For to hold such a faith, and to live by it, means that one can have no use for any form of obscurantism. It means that the quest for knowledge must go on endlessly, that the exact truth about any and every phase of life must be given to the people at all times, that the people must—as a great democrat once said—have the right to make their own mistakes.

All of this is the exact opposite of the faith that prevails in the authoritarian governments.

It is, as a matter of fact, a broader faith that many of us actually live up to in America. And yet it is the only faith that can make freedom and democracy work. And to defend freedom and democracy, one must begin by defending that faith in season and out of season.

Viewed in that light, Dr. Mann's injunction is clearer. Understand what freedom really means, and you can see how it is to be defended. Protect that broad faith which animates freedom, and freedom itself will remain alive.

Washington — The new jobs quota which Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins and his lieutenants privately have decided to add to WPA rolls when its new appropriation becomes effective July 1 is 250,000.

This will bring the WPA total up to nearly 3,000,000. Its present total is 2,705,000.

In fixing the size of the new quota, Hopkins and his aides were confronted with a grave dilemma: (1) whether to expand WPA rolls on a large scale immediately, say up to 3,500,000 or 4,000,000, in order to give the sagging economic system a big shot in the arm at one stroke; or (2) to hold down the increase to moderate proportions now and see how business shapes up in the fall.

There was strong support among Hopkins' assistants for the first course. With a few exceptions, his field directors reported that conditions in their areas were very bad and counseled going the limit in increasing WPA rolls at once.

Hopkins readily agreed with this argument but pointed out that there are several controlling administrative problems. One is the job of setting up the right kind of projects to provide work relief. This can't be done overnight. It takes time and careful preparation. Second, and more important, is the problem of finances.

An immediate large-scale expansion of relief rolls raised the danger, Hopkins held, that if private employment did not appreciably improve by next fall, WPA would find itself short of money and have to reduce operations at a time when relief is most needed.

To avoid this danger, he decided that the wisest policy was to step up WPA rolls gradually, starting with an approximate 10 per cent increase in July.

Free Man Robert

Debonair Chip Robert, hard-working secretary of the Democratic national committee, was at a cocktail party given by Charley Michelson in honor of Chip's beautiful wife, Evie. Mrs. Robert was about to depart for Ireland.

"You see this necktie, Evie?" said Chip, calling his wife's attention to a smart Bond Street cravat bearing the frequently repeated letters "T" and "M".

"You know what those letters stand for," continued Chip. "That's what I'm going to be after you leave—free man."

Justice Shake-Up

You can write it down as fairly certain that Brian McMahon, assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division, will retire from the justice department after he finishes his spectacular prosecution of coal company terrorism in Harlan county, Kentucky.

McMahon, who has developed into one of the hardest-hitting members of the justice department, has indicated to friends that the Harlan county trial will be the climax to his present public career.

It is not impossible, however, that Brian will return to public life—and the Senate—after he has gone back to Connecticut and strengthened his political roots. If so, he will have Roosevelt's emphatic support.

Until he enters the Senate, it is entirely within the realm of possibility that McMahon will form a law partnership with Attorney General Cummings and Lamar Hardy, brilliant U. S. attorney for New York.

Note—Best bet as McMahon's successor is Gordon Dean, one of the keenest young lawyers in the justice department.

"I Am the Law"

Mayor Frank ("I am the law") Hague's refusal to supply G-men with the crime statistics of his community is not the only instance of his balking at supplying significant information.

The Jersey City dictator has steadfastly refused to give the United States Public Health Service any data regarding venereal disease in his community. Health officials asked for the information as part of the nationwide campaign against the disease. Hague is the only municipal executive who has not cooperated.

Press Investigator

Disclosure that Senator Millard (Milord) Tydings was the real author of the idea of having the Senate lobby committee investigate the press, has caused loud guffaws among his colleagues.

Originally, Senator Minton of Indiana got the credit—or the blame—for the newspaper investigation idea. It caused a terrific furor and a lot of unfavorable criticism.

But in the closing hours of the session, Senator Minton let drop the fact that Senator Tydings, who faces a tough re-election battle and has had a lot of unfavorable newspaper publicity, was the one who approached Minton with the idea that newspapers should be investigated.

Note—What Tydings has complained about particularly are newspaper stories describing his million-dollar mansion on the banks of the Susquehanna, its ten-car garage, and the road built to it with WPA funds.

At the recent congressional session Tydings was the strongest advocate of investigating WPA—until Maryland Republicans pointed out that the senator's WPA roads should be the first thing investigated. Then he kept quiet.

Brain Twizzlers

By

PROF. J. D. FLINT

Here is a problem that looks as though it may have come out of your old school-days mathematics book but don't let it fool you because nine out of ten people (that's being conservative) will miss the correct answer through carelessness or failure to think correctly and it really isn't hard at all.

Simon and Silas were twins. They were carpenters. Simon and Silas were called upon to do a job at one time and when asked for a time estimate they said that Simon could do the job alone in four days while Silas could do it alone in three days. The man who hired them had to figure out how long it would take them working together to do the job. Can you?

The wood carver made a box

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler

The wood carver made a box with dimensions three by one by one. I laid the figure in it and poured a fine sand into the box until the remaining space was filled. Then the figure was removed and the sand in the box occupied one cubic foot.

DO INTROVERTS OR EXTRAVERTS MAKE THE BETTER AIRPLANE PILOTS? YOUR ANSWER

The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea. (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. To answer this one has only to read the press accounts of the recent visit of the Quintuplets to the dentist. According to this, Yvonne was examined first and she was loath to leave the chair. Then Emilie, Annette, Marie and Cecile made a rush, and it was only with the help of the nurse that they were prevented from all climbing into the chair at once! No doubt this is simply because they had never been scared in advance by the good Dr. Dafoe or any of their teachers or nurses. Incidentally, all their teeth were pronounced perfect. All my family grew up without the slightest fear of the dentist because we saw our mother sit calmly in an ordinary kitchen chair and have seven teeth pulled at one time without anesthetics by a country dentist.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. An extensive investigation of this has been made by a German psychologist, H. Brugger, and he finds that most people are simply unaware of more than a very few characteristics of their fellow men. He finds when they think of another person they always think of just one or two characteristics that he possesses such as honesty, selfishness, kindness, egotism, etc., and not of his many other traits and entire personality.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. A study of this, made by J. W. Vann, is reported in the Navy Medical Bulletin. He concludes that extraverts are the best prospects for airplane pilots because they more easily and quickly adjust themselves to external facts. They live much more in the outer real world. The introvert is more concerned with his own feelings and is not quite such a good prospect.

FIVE REDS IN ALL-STAR TILT THIS SUMMER

Vander Meer Tops List of Cincy's Entries

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
New York, June 27.—(AP)—Cincinnati fans who turn out for the inter-league all-star game at Red-land field a week from Wednesday will see a lot of familiar figures in new roles. For the Reds are leading the National League's youth movement in an effort to end the rival circuit's string of victories in the mid-summer classic.

Five Cincinnati players were chosen by vote of the eight National League managers for places on the squad of 23 men, announced today. And only one of them ever has taken part in an all-star game. In addition, Bill Terry of the New York Giants, who will manage the team, picked Will McKechnie, Cincinnati manager, as one of his coaches.

The rest of the squad, including four players each from the Giants and the Chicago Cubs and three each from Brooklyn and Pittsburgh, follow the same lines. In contrast to the American League squad, featuring the same veteran sluggers who have won four of the five previous clashes, the National featured newcomers. Only ten of the 23 players have appeared in all-star contests and only the Cubs' hardy perennial, Catcher (Gaby) Hartnett, has been in all of them.

The American Leaguers offer two players, Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees and Charley Gehring, Detroit second baseman, who have played in every game, as well as Lefty Gomez of the Yanks, who has pitched four times and was a member of the squad the other year. Twelve others have seen all-star service and another, Hank Greenberg, was an idle member of the 1937 squad.

Contribute 5 Pitchers
In addition to Gehrig, the world champion Yankees contributed five men—Pitchers Red Ruffing and Gomez, Catcher Bill Dickey, third baseman Red Rolfe and outfielder Joe DiMaggio. All are veterans of previous teams.

Cincinnati's delegation is topped by the "double no-hit" mound star, Johnny Vander Meer. It also includes Paul Derringer, veteran pitcher, catcher Ernie (Schnozzle) Lombardi, first baseman Frank McCormick and outfielder Ival Goodman. Derringer pitched one inning of the 1935 game while Lombardi was on last year's squad but only warmed the bench.

The ten veterans include Tony Cucinello of the Boston Bees, who played in the 1933 inaugural game and hasn't been back since; Carl Hubbell, who also pitched in that game and has missed only the 1935 contest, and Joe Medwick of the Cardinals, Mel Ott of the Giants, and Billy Herman of the Cubs, who have been regulars every year since 1934.

The American Leaguers also have three four-year men Earl Averill of Cleveland, Joe Cronin and Jimmy Fox of the Boston Red Sox, as well as Boston's Lefty Grove, who pitched in 1933.

The all-star squads:
National League: Pitchers—Johnny Vander Meer and Paul Derringer, Cincinnati; Carl Hubbell, New York; Bill Lee, Chicago; Jim Turner, Boston; Mace Brown, Pittsburgh; catchers—Lombardi, Cincinnati; Gordon Phelps, Brooklyn; infielders—Frank McCormick, Cincinnati; Billy Herman and Stanley Hack, Chicago; Floyd Vaughan, Pittsburgh; Leo Durocher and Harry Lavagetto, Brooklyn; Tony Cucinello, Boston; outfielders—Joe Medwick, St. Louis; Hershel Martin, Philadelphia; Ival Goodman, Cincinnati; Mel Ott, Joe Moore and Hank Leiber, New York; Lloyd Waner, Pittsburgh.

RAIN SQUALLS FAIL TO AFFECT SKEETERS' SKILL

Stratford, Conn., June 27.—(AP)—Intermittent rain squalls failing to affect the skill of the nation's leading skeet marksmen who saw a world's record set and new champions crowned in the 10th annual great eastern skeet shoot yesterday.

Record-breakers were the Rose-land Gun club of West Orange, N. J., and the Northwest Gun club of Chicago which tied for the team championship with 485 of a possible 500.

In the first shoot-off the event ever has seen here, the Rosalind sharpshooters retained their title by knocking off 116 out of 125 birds to 114 for the Chicagoans.

The 485 was a world record, bettering the 483 set by the Red Lions club of Los Angeles in 1934. Frank Wirth of Flushing, Long Island, became the new individual champion after a shoot-off with Lowry Booth of Ingleside, Ill.

Each finished the regular competition with 99 out of a possible 100 and Wirth scored 24 straight to his opponent's 23 in the shoot-off at 25 birds.

A third shoot-off was necessary to decide the high over-all championship which went to Dick Shaughnessy of Dedham, Mass. He and Frank R. Kelly of West Orange, N. J., defending champion, ended the 410 gauge, 20 gauge and all-bore competitions with aggregates of 287 and Shaughnessy scored 24 in the deciding round to Kelly's 23.

Alice Marble and Helen Jacobs Move Into Quarterfinal
Wimbledon, Eng., June 27.—(AP)—Alice Marble, second seeded player from San Francisco, and Helen Jacobs, former champion, moved into the quarter-final round of the all-England tennis championships today after the start of play had been delayed by rain.

Miss Marble took the measure of Ruth Mary Harwick of England 7-5, 6-4 and Miss Jacobs easily won from Peggy Scriven, also of England, 6-3, 6-0.

Watches were known as "Nuremberg eggs" in the past, describing their name from the fact that they were made in Nuremberg, Germany, and resembled eggs in shape.

The ten veterans include Tony Cucinello of the Boston Bees, who played in the 1933 inaugural game and hasn't been back since; Carl Hubbell, who also pitched in that game and has missed only the 1935 contest, and Joe Medwick of the Cardinals, Mel Ott of the Giants, and Billy Herman of the Cubs, who have been regulars every year since 1934.

Henry Allows Rochelle Only Two Hits Strikes Out 14 For 3 to 0 Win

Knacks Anticipate Paw Contest Next Sunday

Francis Henry pitched a superb two-hit ball game Sunday against Rochelle, striking out fourteen men at Reynolds field here.

Hank's control was none too good at times as he walked seven men but he tightened up in the pinches and got the Rochelle hitters to strike out. Van Cura was the only Rochelle man to find Henry's delivery and he got the visitors' two blows, a double and a single. Bud Rink playing his first game with the Knacks, drove in two runs for the Dixon team.

Bud played a nice game in right field, throwing out two men, one at second and one trying to score when he made a perfect peg to Windmiller putting out Johnson in the fifth. Flanagan played a fine game as did B. Carlson at second who had five chances without a bobbie. The Knacks scored in the third, Bush reaching first after Pierce dropped the third strike. Bush went on to second when Pierce, trying to get Bush going to first threw the ball over Eckhart's head. Bush went to Eckhart. Bush scored while Scher was throwing Rink out at first.

Kuhn Steals Second.
Kuhn singled, stole second, went to third on a passed ball. Martin was walked and was picked off first by Anderson to Eckhart as the side was retired. The Knacks didn't score again until the seventh when Bush Carlson singled, went to second on a passed ball by Angell. Flanagan filed to Hayenga. Bush filed to Pierce in left field and Bush Carlson scored on Henry's single to right field. Henry went to second on the throw to the plate trying to nab Carlson. Rink singled to right field bringing Henry across the plate. Kuhn then forced Rink at second and the latter was put out by Hughes as the side was retired.

About 1000 fans witnessed the game. Members of the West Brooklyn and Walton teams watched the game from the sidelines as their contests with Paw Paw and Welland were called on account of wet grounds. The Knacks meet Paw Paw here next Sunday and play at Mendota, July 4, against Welland for the American Legion celebration at Kakusha park. Practice will be held Tuesday night.

The Knacks played the game minus the services of the two Prestegard boys and Lenard. H. Prestegard was out of town while Lenard was called away on another duty. Ole Prestegard was ill but will be present for next Sunday's tilt with Paw Paw.

Excursion Boat
Still Aground On
Round Island Reel
Mackinac Island, Mich., June 27.—(AP)—The excursion steamer South American, which went aground off Round Island Saturday, remained fast today and tentative plans were being made to jack up the vessel and slide her off the shoal which was holding her.

The tug Favorite, of Sault Ste. Marie, the coast guard cutter Escanaba and the railroad car ferry Wawatama attempted in vain to pull the steamer off Tin shoals, at the southeast end of Round Island. The ship was leaking somewhat beneath its fuel tanks, but it was considered in no danger.

The 125 passengers, most of them Detroiters, left for Detroit yesterday by train. Members of the crew were brought to Mackinac Island.

Moline Sinks To
Fifth Position
Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—Moline's losing streak, which began last week in its first-place series against the league-leading Evansville Bees, found the 1937 Trojans eye league champions down to fifth place today.

Decatur jumped ahead of the Plowboys yesterday by winning a 3 to 2 decision in 11 innings. Meanwhile, Evansville increased its lead by winning both games of a double-header with Clinton, 2 to 1 and 11 to 1, while second-place Springfield divided with Cedar Rapids. Pitcher Perez hit a home run to win his own game, 1 to 0, in the seven-inning opener, but Cedar Rapids took the second contest, 10 to 4.

Waterloo advanced within a game of Springfield in defeating Bloomington twice, 2 to 1 and 7 to 0.

The city of New York uses about 900,000,000 gallons of water a day.

Centralia, Ill., June 27.—(AP)—Kenneth (Bud) Oglesby of Vandalia, a member of the Centralia club, was champion of the Southern Illinois Golf association today by virtue of his victory yesterday in the finals of the 17th annual tournament at the Meadow Woods Country club.

Oglesby, a newcomer in the association, defeated Don McAllister of Carmi, last year's winner. Oglesby took an early lead and broke up McAllister's rally to triumph, 5-4 in a 36 hole match.

The Vandallian advanced to the finals by beating James Adams of Sparta 4-3, in the semi-finals. McAllister conquered Joe Campbell of Nashville, representing the St. Clair Country club, 4-3.

George McAllister, Don's brother, won the Class A championship by defeating W. F. McKelvey of Sparta, 7-6. McAllister went into the finals by defeating R. K. Martin of Salem, 1 up, in 41 holes. McKelvey Class B honors by defeating George Treece of Centralia, 10-9. Easterley defeated Paul Daily of Benton, 1 up, in the semi-finals. Treece defeated W. D. Mohlenbrock of the Jackson county club by the same score.

Seventy Five In Illinois Women's Golf Tournament

Champaign, Ill., June 27.—(AP)—Qualifying play in the fifth annual Illinois women's golf tournament opened today with a field of more than 75 seeking the title won last year by Hilda Mae Livengood, University of Illinois senior from Danville.

Two other former champions were entered along with three runners-up of previous tournaments, but early practice rounds by Miss Livengood stamped the champion as a favorite to gain her third crown.

The other former champions competing in today's 18-hole qualifying round were Dorothy Foster of Springfield, winner of the first tournament in 1934, and Miss Vilas Norton of Glenview who won at Peoria in 1936. Runners-up included Mrs. R. I. Bullard of Springfield.

Flight play, which will follow today's qualifying round, will continue through Friday.

Bits of Gossip of Sports Picked Up By AP Writer

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, June 27.—(AP)—Max Schmeling owes Mike Jacob $40,000 covering advance over a two-year period, and will have to pay every dime of it before returning to Germany. Reason: Mike is among those who believe the German is through with any part of us from now on. Its Washington or California at Poughkeepsie today and you can write your own ticket.

On the night Louis kaoyed Schmeling, Negroes from in and around Chicago, N. J., paraded in front of Tony's, Galetto's orange drinkery shouting "Louis for president." Low down on Dizzy Dean's condition due any day now and prescription is likely to be a year's rest.

It was a surprise that Babe Phelps of the Dukes made the National league all-star team. It was an even greater surprise that Hank Leiber was picked. Mike Jacobs has Maxie Baer tied to a three-year contract, but they're betting Chicago Broadway Mike doesn't get Baer in the same ring with Joe Louis this year after what Max (who ain't blind) saw the other night. Baer began a week's tour of New England today, refereeing boxing and wrestling matches.

Slims out a home with the bases loaded again this season he equal the major league record of four such wallops in one year, held jointly by Frank Schulte of the old Cubs. Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig played popular visiting player to visit the Polo Grounds is Gaby Hartnett of the Cubs.

No wonder the umpires miss 'em. Harry Geisel, American league veteran, has it all figured out and estimates the bluecoats have close to 200 chances each game in which to make mistakes. If Lou Ambers, now on the injured list, can't go through with his lightweight title bout with Henry Armstrong July 26, Armstrong is willing to defend his welterweight title against Cefero Garcia of Los Angeles on the same date. Has Eddie Mead gone plumb out of his head? Garcia is the one guy who is apt to half kill Armstrong.

SIMMONS BACK IN FORM AIDS NATS' CAUSE

Griffith Appears To Have Gotten Good Bargain

BY SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer

It's a shame. All those glowing obituaries about the Pounding Pole will have to be torn up. All those pretty words about his two straight American league batting championships; about the way he led the Athletics to three pennants and two world titles; about his records sprinkled all through the book—all of the stuff that's been written about the "washed up" old guy will have to go back on the dead hook.

Because the Pounding Pole (Al Simmons is the name) isn't any more washed up than the week's laundry at 4 A. M. Monday morning. That $15,000 price tag "Old Fox" Clark Griffith paid the Tigers for him looks like a bargain at the moment, and that 279 batting average he turned in last year must have been a mistake.

If there was one outstanding development of the just-concluded swing through the circuit of the American league's eastern teams and the National league's west—outside of the Dizzy way the whole thing wound up—Simmons' return to form is it.

In the 11 games he played during the Senators' trek through the hinterlands, "Assassin Al" batted a mere .375, drove in 24 runs and collected six homers, four of them in the last six games, and two of them in yesterday's doubleheader as the Senators socked the St. Louis Browns 9-1 and 7-2. The second came with the bases loaded, and gave him ten for the year. Now that's not an awful lot, but if he keeps it up, it would figure close to 30 for the season, which isn't exactly popping up to the infielders.

Punch Nats to Fourth
The double win pushed the Nats up to fourth place in the American league over the Detroit Tigers, who had their ears knocked off, 10-3, by the reviving Yankees.

The curtailed Sunday program wound up the latest swing through the circuit in both leagues with about as silly a set of figures as you'd expect in these wacky pennant races. Not one of the National league's four eastern teams—including the Giants—managed to show a .500 average for the home stands, and only the Chicago Cubs of the western set went under that figure among the invaders. The east won 19 and lost 28 games.

The Giants just missed the even-Stephen figures by taking the final game of their series with the Cubs, 5-1, yesterday. King Carl Hubbell came through with the 200th pitching victory of his big league career, the only National league elbow active in the game today in that select set.

Over in the American league only the Cleveland Indians, among the four western outfits, managed to go to town during the home stand. The others finished at .500 or less, while the eastern invaders came home with a total of 26 wins against 21 setbacks.

By winning yesterday, the Giants stretched their National league lead to two games over the Cincinnati Reds, who broke even with the Phillies in a twin bill. Homers by Chuck Klein and Phil Weintraub helped the Phils to a 10-3 win in the opener. Harry Craft's four-bagger aided Paul Derringer to an 8-5 Red win in the nightcap.

The Dodgers and Cardinals played to a 1-1 tie before rain washed out in the sixth inning of the first game, what was to have been their doubleheader. Everything else in both leagues was rained out.

Yesterday's Stars
(By The Associated Press)
Harry Kelley, Wes Ferrell, and Al Simmons, Senators—Former pitched seven-hit for 9-1 opener win over Browns; Ferrell took the nightcap with nine-hit performance; Simmons hit homer in each game, connecting with bases loaded in nightcap.
Carl Hubbell, Giants—Stopped Cubs with one run in winning his 200th big league victory.
Buck Jordan, Phillies, and Lonnie Frey, Reds—Former hit double and three homers, driving in three runs in 10-3 opener win; Frey hit two triples, three singles and batted in three runs in nightcap.
Monte Pearson, Yankees—Hand-cuffed Tigers with six hits, fanning five for 10-3 victory.

U. S. Olympic Teams
To Be Composed Of
Only Best Athletes
New York, June 27.—(AP)—For the first time in 40 years, the United States team in the 1940 Olympics at Tokyo will depart from the tradition of maximum representation in all sports.

The American Olympic committee decided last night that instead of first, second and third place finishers in the final team try-outs, only those whose performances could "promise a creditable showing" would be taken along.

THE red squirrel has a systematic way of storing his food. He classifies all objects into two groups—hard objects and soft. The hard food, such as nuts, is buried or carried to a hoard, while the soft, perishable food is arranged about the tree.

Native superstitions keeps Djuka tribesmen of Dutch Guiana, South America, from spitting out any food which has been in their mouths. An evil spirit is thought to search for the food thus expectorated and place the Djuka's life in jeopardy when found.

INAUGURATES CAMPAIGN

Postmaster George Frut has received orders from the post office department at Washington to observe clean-up week of all unsightly and unserviceable rural mail boxes, particularly the non-regulation, old type, top-opening boxes as well as the make-shift receptacles which expose the mail to the elements. Mail carriers are instructed to tell patrons about the condition of their boxes and are to make a report to the local office if this clean-up order is not complied with. Postmaster Frut is very urgent that mail patrons should take pride in their boxes and show their appreciation for the service rendered by the postoffice department.
